pike, near Lancaster. For particulars apply to J. W. Miller or J. S. Robinson.

Pay cash and save money. You have no idea what a difference we feel when we see the money, just can't "weigh light." R. A. Stone.

Bourbon Steam Laundry.

Miss Olivia Sweeney is agent for the Bourbon Steam Laundry. Leave your orders at Sweeney's store.

The electric light people have so many orders for lights that their men hardly have a breathing spell. They are hustlers though, and are pushing the work.

Sealskin Muff.

A sealskin muff was left at McRob-ert's drug store a few days since, which the owner can have by proving property and paying for this notice.

Boy Wanted.

If an honest, honorable boy, about 14 to 16 years of age, one who will not steal time and whose cymbling head is not too full of girls, will apply at THE RECORD office at once, he may learn something to his interest.

New Law Firm.

Col. W. G. Welch, of Stanford, and Mr. W. I. Williams, of this city, have formed a partnership for the practice of law. Col. Welch will remain in Stanford, but will come here when occasion demands. The firm is a strong one and will doubtless soon build up a lucrative practice.

Lung soreness is a forerunner of serious trouble. If you feel the slightest indication, Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey will allay the inflammation and prevent further progress of the disease. It is the most efficient means of curing coughs, colds and bronchial affections found in the annals of medicine.

Masons Elect Officers.

At the annual election of officers for Lancaster Lodge 104, F. & A. M., the following brethren were chosen: Louis Landram, W. M.; Jacob Joseph, S. W.; W. B. Mason, J. W.; R. Kinnaird, Secretary; G. S. Greenleaf, S. D.; J. Has-elden, J. D.; M. P. Prewitt, S. & T.

Train Taken Off.

The night train, which was such a convenience to our people, has been discontinued. We only have one train each way a day now, and, in consequence the livery stables are doing a much better business. Nine-tenths of the travel from Lancaster either takes the L. & N., at Stanford, or the Q. & C., at Danville.

To My Friends.

I wish to extend my thanks to my friends who gave me such a nice "Christmas surprise," and also to those who have helped me, and have been so kind to me in other ways. Dear friends, it is impossible for me to express my appreciation and gratitude to you for your kindness to me during the past year. I wish you all a Happy and prosperous New Year. Your humble friend,
MRS. OPHELIA DUNN.

The Post Office Fight.

Much interest is now being taken by the applicants for the Lancaster postoffice. The two former applicants, Messrs. W. K. Shugars and E. W. Harris, now have opposition in Mr. W. T.
West. Shugars claims to have the unqualified promises of "the powers that be" and was so confident of success that he has not re-entered any kind of business since resigning his place with Mr. J. E. Stormes some time since. It is said that Congressman Davison is inclined to leave the matter wholly with Gov. Bradley, as this is the governor's old home. Many seem to think that Mr. West has the best chance, and some are willing to bet on Harris. The RECORD hopes that whoever gets it will keep it up to its present high standard.

Carl Herrman at Court House tonight.

All kinds of fancy new evaporated fruits at Gaines.

January 1st, '98 and after, I will sell room in front of Mrs. Hardens on Richmond street.

ly. That's what you want! Stormes'

Please Read.

I would like to do your plain sewing and dyeing. Mrs. Ophelia Dunn.

The Ladies Aid.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Lucinda Greenleaf Saturday afternoon.

Come and see my furniture and get my prices before buying. A surprise is in store for you. They are so cheap.
New lot just received. R. A. Stone.

County Attorney Owsley traded rooms with Miss Lusk, superintendent, and she occupies the front one in the city building, while his office is in the rear.

Soldiers Still On Guard.

State troops still guard the toll gate between here and Danville. Adjutant General Collier is quoted as saying that they will be kept there until the road is either purchased or leased by Boyle county.

Pantograph Burned Out.

The plant of the Richmond Pant-ograph was totally destroyed by fire last week. We do not know whether Mr. Adams will put in another one or not, but THE RECORD joins that paper's many admirers in wishing that he will resume its publication.

Strayed.

From my pasture, on House place, about Dec. 15, one red yearling steer, weight about 550 lbs. Liberal reward for return. Leave any information with T. B. Walker.

E. T. PENCE.

Jailer Ross.

Jailer David Ross moved into his new quarters and took possession Monday. "The Devil" is a mighty clever fellow and one who sticks to his friends. His administration is as sure of success as a nickel is for a beer in a local option town.

Oliver Jarvis Dead.

Oliver B. Jarvis, son of W. B. Jarvis, was found dead in his bed the morning of the 27th. Death was caused from epilepsy. Oliver was 24 years old.
The funeral was conducted at his father's residence by Rev. Clark, of the M. E. South, at 10 o'clock a. m. the 28th, after which the remains were taken to Guns Chapel for interment.

New City Council.

The new City Council was sworn in Monday and organized Monday night.
Owing to the illness of a member, nothing was done toward making the several appointments. There are several applicants for marshal, while candidates for attorney are thicker than fiddlers in hades. There is no opposition to clerk Wherritt, and there should be none, for he is worthy, competent, and deserves the place. The Council will meet in a few days and elect officers, appoint their committees, and then buckle down for a fair, square, economical administration.

Better Keep Him.

We understand there is a probability, or possibility, of the local Baptist church discontinuing their engagement of Rev. T. H. Campbell. We sincerely hope that such is not the case. Mr. Campbell is a man who is a benefit to any community and one who will prove a benefit to all society. The people, irrespective of denominations, want him, and we hope that some steps will be taken to retain him. He is a man who certainly "practices what he preaches," and is a true Christian in every sense of the word.

Good One on Millard.

While in Danville the other day, Millard West, the handsome and popular clerk at Logan & Robinson's, stepped into Robertson & Farris' establishment to whisper a few good words into the ears of a pretty young lady acquaintance who was making some purchases. A "dummy" in the form of an iron negro boy sits on the counter and Millard, growing more serious, remarked to the young lady,
"Come, let's get where that devilish negro boy will not laugh at us. Wonder why they keep such an impudent little black wretch in here?"

Lancaster Boy Honored.

Johnnie Norris, son of Charles Norris, was elected a page at Frankfort Monday. Johnnie is a very bright boy and by his polite manner and industrious habits made many friends here, who are glad that he received the honor. Congratulations to you, young man.

Benton Ashley's Suit.

Benton Ashley left yesterday for Louisville to prosecute his suit there against a man for assault. It will be remembered that the man struck Benton while the latter was not looking, and wholly without provocation. As a result, he was laid up for several months and suffered a great deal.

Change in Colored School.

The trustees of colored district "A" in town, have removed L. A. Leavell as teacher and placed in full charge R. W. Fletcher, assisted by Willie B.
Lackey. The trustees, Dan Bogie, Frank Lackey and Geo. Ter's made the change because the former teachers did not have 25 per cent of total number of school children in the district attending for 20 consecutive days just past. The teachers action was approved by the superintendent.

Eld. Gowen's Appointment.

E. D. George Gowen, of this city, has accepted the position of Literary Editor of the Christian Guide, a paper published in Louisville. The publication is fortunate in securing his services, as he is finely educated, well read and has the mental ability to fill the place to the perfect satisfaction of all. His new work will in no wise conflict with his duties here, and he will continue to fill the pulpit at the Christian church every Sunday during the year.

A Hustler.

Chas. C. Glass, Camp Nelson, has bought of the Crow heirs the property at the mouth of Hickman, containing 15 acres, for $4,000, upon which he will erect a large warehouse, coal elevator and saw mill, and will also deal in country produce of all kinds. Chas.
Glass is regarded as one of the best young business men in Jessamine county and has been very successful.
He killed this year for home trade 500 hogs.—Jessamine Journal.

Mason Hotel.

The RECORD is pleased to note that Mrs. Simpson will have charge of the Mason Hotel again this year. Under her able supervision the hotel has built up a splendid trade, and its patrons are loud in their praise of the excellent fair and treatment received there. She tells THE RECORD that she appreciates the many kindnesses extended her by the people, and hopes by renewed efforts to continue to receive their patronage.

Premium and Reduction.

Small profits, low prices, good fits and superior quality of goods have swelled my number of sales. Come and examine for yourselves. Competition, for prices and profits, is invited.
I only give a chance for a fine pair of pants, for every five dollars worth purchased, but I will sell anything I have at a reduction of 5 per cent, from my rock bottom prices, from now until January 1st, 1898. This will make prices lower than the lowest. Some of your best citizens say that they have saved money by buying of me, but I don't sell them often; on account of the long wearing qualities of the goods. M. D. HUGHES, Agent.

A "Swear off" that Stuck.

Exactly twenty years ago on Monday, December 6, George T. Farris, now state senator-elect, then a young man, with a bottle of whisky and a six-shooter as his companions, attended the famous temperance revival held in the Richmond courthouse by the noted lecturer, Wenzell, says the Richmond Climax. Among the four hundred people who went forward and signed the pledge was this same George Farris, armed and equipped as above mentioned. And to this hour and minute he has never violated the oath he took, and never parts with the card which he signed on that December night in 1877. Not only has he successfully battled the temptation to drink strong intoxicants, whisky, wine, etc., but such harmless (?) beverages as beer and cider have never since touched his lips.

The Pike Question.

The committee sent to Frankfort appeared before the Sinking Fund Commissioners on last Friday and offered them $14,000 for their interest in the Lexington road lying in Garrard county, which was refused. The following roads have been bought at the committee's estimate: Hiattsville and Kirkville, $500; Buckeye, $2,397; Spil-man road, $750; Poor Ridge, $500; Mt.
Hebron, 1000; Buena Vista, $500. The other companies in the county refused the offers made, as estimated by the committee, and have replaced their gates. Only one road, so far, the Richmond, has applied for guards, and the County Judge furnished two for each gate. It is hard to tell now, just what will be done. The court relies upon its committee's estimate as being perfectly reasonable as to prices for the roads, and the stockholders say nay. So there's the situation in a nutshell. THE RECORD hopes that everything will be amicably settled, and that, too, soon.

LATER—Since the above was put in type, a committee from the Lexington road came in this (Thursday) afternoon and told the court that they were perfectly willing to meet the county half way and do what would be the right thing by all concerned. We are informed by one who ought to know that the indications are very strong that the deal for this pike will be closed tomorrow. As individual stockholders own the controlling interest, their say will knock the high muck sinking fund commissioners at Frankfort east, west and crooked. So, you see, later developments throw a much brighter light on the subject.

Goose Supper.

The local Masonic lodge enjoyed a fine goose supper a few nights since.
The fowls were prepared under the kind supervision of Mrs. J. Joseph, whose reputation for getting up excellent and dainty dishes caused the brethren to await impatiently for the supper hour to arrive. A few invited guests, and all masons in town wither members of the lodge or not, were on hand, and the way those geese disappeared was a sight to behold. Coffee, bread, celery, pickles, etc., were plentiful and all went home feeling that it was good to have been there. There were no windy speeches which generally blow away the pleasure of such occasions, and everything was carried out in that quiet, unassum-ing way for which masons are noted for thousands of years. The local lodge is not flooded with petitions, but has work at nearly every meeting.

Fixed Her Up.

Our big cylinder press got out of whack week before last, and we wrote to a type foundry to learn cost of sending a machinist here. "Five dollars per day for man and three dollars per day for his expenses" was the abrupt reply scratched across the bottom of our letter. Not having enough cash to hire him for even one day, we undertook the job ourselves. Like the man who took the clock apart, we soon had enough pieces to not only make two presses, but to set up an entire new office. New springs, new bearings, tympan, blanket, etc., were ordered and the job of getting her together was undertaken. A few four days of labor, study and poetry quoting, the last piece was gotten back.
She runs as smoothly as a new sewing machine, and, if you can't now read this impression at a distance of fifty yards, you are in need of the services of an oculist.

Death of Miss Lucile Weisiger.

One of the saddest deaths in Lancaster for some time, was that of Miss Lucile Weisiger, which occurred Sunday night at 10 o'clock. She had suffered for several months with throat trouble and was confined to her bed for some weeks. She would have been sixteen years old next April, and was an unusually bright and intelligent girl. She was an active member of the Presbyterian church and took a leading part in the Christian Endeavor and Sunday School. Her beautiful life should be an example for others.
Appropriate funeral services were conducted at the family residence Tuesday morning by Rev. J. C. Randolph and Henry Faulconer. The remains were tenderly laid to rest beside those of her father, the late Col. Joe Weis-iger, in the Danville Cemetery. An appropriate tribute will be prepared by the Christian Endeavor society and appear in next issue of THE RECORD.

IN MEMORIAM.

In the morning of her life she sun-went down and yet, not until her work was done. The flower was too beautiful and fragrant for earth's gardens, and the tender fingers of Providence plucked it and transplanted it above with "the rose of Sharon and the lily of the valleys." The loss to church, home, mother and friends is irreparable, and yet, God's holy will is best.
What a blessing her life has been to us all, short, yet it has by its gentleness been indelibly stamped on our minds and hearts and the influence of such a lovely life will never die and never cease to draw heavenward. She "being dead yet speaketh."
"She is not dead, the child of our affection,
But gone into that school Where she no longer needs our poor protection,
But Christ Himself doth rule.
In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion,
By guardian angels led,
Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution,
She lives whom we call dead."
She spent her last hours in prayer and telling of Jesus "mighty to save."
And those present will never forget it, or she seemed so close to her Savior that the death chamber was robbed of its gloom, and brightened by a smile from the little saint's face. It was her desire to get well to take care of her mother, but was always submissive to God's will. And just before she left us, she poured out her spirit in prayer to the "Lord Jesus to come quickly"—and at 10 o'clock her prayer was answered for the death Shepherd bore the gentle spirit of the lamb in His own bosom to the fold above.
"She hath escaped all danger now,
Her pain and fighting all are dead;
The crown of joy is on her brow, Eternal glories o'er her shed."

A New Form of Personalities.

The old style of portraying famous people through a "sketch" of "biography" is to be modernized in the Ladies' Home Journal during 1898. Five of the most prominent Americans have been chosen for the departure: President McKinley, Mrs. Cleveland, Mark Twain, Joseph Jefferson, and Thomas A. Edison. Each will have a special article, which will consist of about fifteen or twenty fresh, unpublished stories and anecdotes strung together, each anecdote showing some characteristic trait of presenting a different side of the subject. The idea is to show famous personalities through their own doings and sayings, and to make these articles accurate the relatives and closest personal friends of the subjects have assisted and given to the Journal the best stories and anecdotes within their own knowledge. Each article will thus represent the closest view of the one sketched. No authorship will be attached to any of the articles.

CENTRAL RECORD

EVERY WEEK BY
LOUIS LANDRAM, Publisher.
 LANCASTER, KENTUCKY.

TERMS: (ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE) $1.00

FRIDAY, January, 7, 1898.

The old year, with its hopes and its fears, its bright realizations and its bitter disappointments, its joys and its sorrows, has passed away. It constituted one page in the great book of life, upon which every deed, for weal or for woe, was recorded, and upon which the bright and the dark spots are mysteriously placed, telling the true story of real life.

Now that we have begun to fill another page, let us pause and consider the deep responsibility which rests upon us. Let us contemplate, calmly and dispassionately, the effect of our words and deeds, not only upon our own characters, but upon those with whom we mingle in the dreary battle of life. Let us brighten the page with deeds of charity and words of cheer. None have fallen so low as to be devoid of influence, and, before the court of Heaven, we will be held responsible, for our many misdeeds, just in proportion to our opportunities to know better and to realize the error of our way.

Life is only a book, large or small, consisting of many pages as years we have lived; the good deeds shining in pure, golden light and the evil deeds represented by dark blurs and blot. The book is always open to the inspection of mankind, and from its pages our characters are formed and our reputations are determined. So every one is the author of a book, which is constantly read by his neighbors and which should, therefore, be published with the greatest care. The gross crimes fill the pages of some, while good and evil deeds are seen in others. The prevailing sin, which is recorded, more or less in every book, is that of backbiting or tattling. We insist that on the new page, which we have just opened, this low, degrading sin will not be recorded. Place the finger of charity over the evil deed of your fellow-beings, and remember that you are mortal, also, and that,

"If the heart were unveiled and the conscience read on the brow,
 There are many we would pass in scorn,
 Who wear the highest honors now."

All nations, both ancient and modern, by common consent, celebrate the beginning of a new year with festive rejoicing. The time of reckoning has varied with different nations. The Athenians began the year in June, the Romans, for a time, in March, the Persians on August 11th, and the Chinese in February.

Many years ago the nobles gave presents to the sovereign, expecting favors in return, and it was customary to present gifts to the chancellor to bias his judgment. Among the Chinese the festivities are kept up for three days, the first thing being the payment of debts, and if a tradesman cannot pay his debts he gives his goods to his creditors—a custom that we should establish here. In Paris there are brilliant displays and tokens of good will are freely given, while all the bells of the city are rung.

The Record extends hearty congratulations to its patrons, for the blessings they are enjoying, and earnest wishes for a continuation of the same. Living in the bright light of gospel truth and scientific investigation, surrounded by and permitted to enjoy every blessing that can emanate from nature and her God, we should resolve to live purer and better lives, thereby manifesting a due appreciation of these unmerited blessings. Begin the new year, abandon sin, pass sweet words of cheer to the suffering and oppressed, in every condition of life, and when the year has rolled away and the page has been written, you can look over the work with the proud satisfaction of knowing that you have done some good in the world which should be the chief aim in life and which, alone, can give comfort to the weary soul when the hour of dissolution arrives.

The Kentucky Legislature assembled at Frankfort Tuesday. As the democrats have majorities in both houses, their caucus nominees were elected without much ceremony. The governor's message is a rather windy document, the gist of which is as follows: It bitterly arraigns peace officers, charging that they have been in sympathy with raiders. It recommends additional legislation for houses of reform; relief for Court of Appeals; more stringent regulations for punishment of election frauds. It shows the State's indebtedness to be $4,459,503.47. It declares the Separate Coach Law unconstitutional and strongly advocates its repeal. It asks for the prohibition of the sale of cigars and their material. It claims that as a result of raiders the State's holdings in turnpike stock have shrunk in value from $400,000 to $100,000, and says "If this spirit (of lawlessness) is not stamped out the day is not far distant when the State will be completely under the control of swashbucklers and highway robbers, who will rob, murder and steal at will." It recommends the appointment of a non-partisan board to control prisons and charitable institutions and for economy's sake the abolition of the Bureau of Agriculture and the Land Office is recommended, the office of Jailer is declared useless, and the minor courts vigorously condemned for useless expenditures.

Many matters of minor importance are touched upon and the Hancock county officials are severely criticised for failure to punish the lynchings of the negro, Bushrod, who was hanged in broad daylight on the public square. Judging from reports, the members are above the average in intelligence. At any rate, let us hope so. If they are they will attend promptly to what is to be done, adjourn, go home and sin no more.

Two Iowa girls who didn't like the sermon waylaid the minister and cowhided him. Some little 2 x 4 pulpit pounders take advantage of their occupation to say mean and cutting things from the rostrum, knowing that the parties referred to have too much reverence for the sanctuary to resent them. It would be well if there were more such girls in the country. Mean preachers need thrashings as well as other mean men.

Congress convened Wednesday. Little legislation is expected before next week. In the House the time will be devoted mainly to the civil service debate, which promises to be unusually lively if not sensational at times. In the Senate the subjects scheduled for early consideration are the Hawaiian question, the Corbett contest, the Immigration Bill and financial legislation.

Reports from Ohio look gloomy for Hanna's re-election. We would like to see Hanna defeated, as we have no use or respect for any man who will sacrifice anything or anybody in order to promote his own selfish welfare. Such men may flourish for a time but when the people do "learn" them, they are felled so flatly that they never rise again.

SENATOR DEBOE will withdraw his bill to reform the civil service and substitute therefor a bill calling for total repeal. He thinks the new bill will be more likely to secure Democratic support. The civil service is too great a protection to congressmen from the army of office seekers for them to ever repeal it. All this fuss about the repeal is done for show.

An intimate friend of Dr. Godfrey Hunter, United States Minister to Guatemala, says that should conditions there not prove to his liking Dr. Hunter will resign and return home to push his contest against Congressman Rhea.

Gov. McCreary.
 The following is another editorial from the Interior Journal of recent date:

We have not consulted Gov. McCreary as to whether he will be a candidate for Congress next year, but we are satisfied that there is a general demand for him to make the race. His unswerving fidelity to the democratic party; his success in his past races for Congress; his devotion to duty while a member of that body and the position he took as a representative, make democrats who desire the success of the party instinctively turn to him as the man to redeem the district. Without discussing his lengthy record as a democrat, which we could with great credit to him, we shall only refer to the two last campaigns, which tested democrats more thoroughly than ever before. Gov. McCreary actively supported Bryan and made speeches for him and the platform at various points in the State in the last presidential campaign. He also supported John B. Thompson, the democratic nominee for Congress, and made speeches for him in the district, one of which was in Stanford by invitation when he made a rousing appeal for Bryan, Thompson and democracy.

In the campaign this year, he made a number of speeches for Shackelford and county democratic tickets. His speech in the convention that nominated Shackelford was received with great favor and his devotion to democratic candidates and democratic platforms was acceptable to all. In the Senatorial race two years ago, he agreed to a democratic caucus, and like a true democrat should, urged his friends to go into the caucus and support the nominee, promising to do so himself no matter who was nominated. The member who put him in nomination moved to make Senator Blackburn's nomination unanimous and it was so done, when he received a majority of the votes.

The governor has said to friends, we learn, who have approached him on the subject that the success of the democratic party in this Congressional district, is paramount to his success and that he is ready to actively support the candidate nominated by the democratic party.

We have shown that Shackelford only beat Bailey 586 in this district and when the votes of Hindman and the other candidates for appellate clerk are subtracted it was shown that he lost the district by 945. The claim can not therefore be made that this is a dead sure democratic district. It will behoove the democrats to put forth their best and strongest man. Let there be no unseemly scramble for the place, but let every democrat seek the good of the party and with a harmonious nomination we will sweep the district as of yore. There will be but one office voted for in November and the candidate will have to look after the organization and bear the burdens of the campaign without the aid of other candidates. We believe that Gov. McCreary is more fully capable of making a successful campaign than any man in the district, but if convinced otherwise, we are ready to accept any good man, who can pilot us safely to victory.

LEAF.

Ed Adams and family left for Eldorado, Arkansas, on the 30th ult.

A happy and prosperous New Year to The Record and its entire force.

George Broadbent sold fifty barrel of corn to Josh Davis at $1.50 delivered.

Wm. Powers has rented his farm to John Murray for three years for $2,100.

E. H. Ballard has lost ten head of yearling cattle with some unknown disease.

Beatty Garrett sold his crop of corn to E. H. Ballard for $1.50 per barrel delivered.

Wm. Cotrell and family, Beatty Garrett and family left on Monday for Southwest Missouri.

The post office at this place was discontinued on the 30th, but the Leaf still flutters in the breeze, and we will try and let you hear from this section occasionally.

Your typo made a mistake in our last. The corn at Ed Adams' sold for $1.55 per barrel, instead of $2.55, as he had it, but as it was Christmas eve, and he was full of egg-nog we will let him off this time.

There was a small crowd at the sale of Wm. Cotrell on the 29th, and bidding was slow. Horses sold from $11 to $44; one five-year-old horse mule $47; one milk cow $19.25; brood sows $6.50 to $10; corn $1.30 per barrel in the crib; farming implements and household goods was almost given away. The boys were just getting over Christmas and were not feeling as rich as they had been.

We had the pleasure of being present at the entertainment given by the ladies of New Hope church Christmas eve. It was rather a cold, disagreeable evening, but the house was filled to overflowing. The ladies were artistically arranged and was literally covered with presents for the little folks. The entertainment consisted of speeches and dialogues by the little girls and boys, selected by Mrs. H. L. Wallace, and each and every one performed their part well. The singing by the choir, composed mostly of young ladies was splendid.

Resolutions.

The Fiscal Court, at its last meeting in December, passed the following resolutions:

Whereas, on Jan. 1, 1898, James A. Baker and James Saunders retire to private life after an honorable service of the former of 22 years, and of the latter of 1 year, continuously, as members of this court,

Whereas, during all those years they have unfalteringly, and with an eye single to justice and the rights of the people discharged their duties with absolute integrity and regardless of praise or censure of those they served, and,

Whereas, their resolutions with the remaining members and officers of the Court have been uniformly courteous and pleasant and nothing allowed to mar the friendly and most cordial intercourse between them.

Resolved, that this court deeply feels and regrets the loss of the further counsel and assistance of said members, and deplores their departure from this Court and extends to them its best wishes for their future welfare and success and believing and knowing that the rising generation and future Courts may well profit by the conduct and example of these its honorable members, it is hereby ordered that these be spread at large upon the records of the Court and be certified by its Clerk to the families of its said retiring members.

Andrew Jackson Brown.
 As many of our older Garrard county citizens remember the subject of the following sketch, we reproduce it in full from Monday's Courier Journal:

The old days were truly good old days, but even when the political history of Kentucky was still in its infancy leaders of the contending parties resorted to strategem to land as winners the candidates they supported. Away back before the war the parties in Kentucky, that antagonized each other over office and issues were the Democrats and Whigs. Down in Garrard county the Whigs were in the majority, but a story still survives—a legacy to the oldest residents—of how the Hon. Andrew Jackson Brown, of Lancaster, lawyer, surveyor and a Democratic leader, made the Whigs tremble with fear on a certain election day, though the men who espoused the principles of Democracy were in a hopeless minority. Andrew Jackson Brown was a native of Virginia, having been born and reared in famous old Albemarle county. In his early youth he moved with his parents to Lancaster, Ky., and there gained prominence as an attorney and a surveyor, many men in that day following both professions.

Brown was always an ardent Democrat and though he was well aware of the odds against him and of the impossibility of victory perching on the Democratic banner, he never failed to make a plucky fight for the Democratic candidates. He threw heart and soul into the canvass, and being eloquent in speech and conversant with the leading topics of the day, never failed to make an address when the occasion presented itself. He was also possessed of an imposing physique and always commanded the greatest attention from his audiences.

It was during a race for State Representative that Mr. Brown determined to stir up consternation among the Whig forces, though there were but fifty-three Democratic voters in the whole county at the time. No one knew this, however, except Mr. Brown. The race was made when elections consumed three days instead of one and when all voters cast their ballots at the county seat instead of the more convenient rural precincts.

Mr. Brown groomed for Representative Dan Ray, a prominent citizen of Lancaster, a large slave owner and considered one of the wealthiest men in Garrard county. Mr. Ray's candidacy having been duly announced, Mr. Brown proceeded to tour the whole county, quietly urging all Democratic voters to assemble in Lancaster the first day of the election and to come in time to cast their votes in the morning. He never missed seeing a single Democrat, for on the morning of the election they were all massed about the polls in Lancaster, all talking about the encouraging prospect for their candidate. The Whigs were dismayed. They hovered about the polls, awe-stricken at the exhibition of such unexpected Democratic strength. They were taken completely off guard and many hurried and secret conferences followed.

By noon all the fifty-three Democrats had voted. It was then that the Hon. Andrew Jackson Brown threw off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and mounting a large box in front of the poll, announced the withdrawal of his candidate. Mr. Ray, he said, was wealthy. He had never sought office before and needed none. But he was a Democrat and he had merely accep-ed the nomination to show the real strength of his party—how it could sweep the field without exertion if it so desired.

It was not until long afterward that the Whigs saw how they had been tricked. In the interim they were greatly discomfited, believing themselves to be really outnumbered by the constituents of the opposing party.

Jones at the M. E. church on the 29th, thence her remains were carried to their final resting place in the Cemetery at Crab Orchard.

Mr. Benj. Sutton, an aged father of near 80 years, after serving his generation for the above mentioned time, fell asleep Dec. 29th at his home in Preachersville. He was an honorable citizen, a strict and orderly walking church member, a compassionate husband. His remains were taken to the Fork church on the 30th, where the devotional exercises were administered, then the remains were laid in the earthen casket.

MRS. ELIZABETH HUDSON.

Remarks of Elder George Gowen at her Funeral.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hudson, whose maiden name was Arnold, was born in this county, April 21, 1822. She was, therefore, seventy-five years of age last April. She was married to Morgan Hudson fifty-five years ago last July. On the 20th July she went with him to live at the old home near Sugar Creek, and continued an unbroken residence there until the 12th of January last, the time of brother Hudson's death. She then seemed to be in robust health, but his death lay so heavily upon her, and the breaking up of the old home was such a revolution in her life that she did not survive him quite a year.

It seemed that the whole of her life had gone out with his death. Their lives had certainly mingled into one. Even when she was comparatively well she constantly longed for the time of departure when she might meet her life-long companion where lives are never rudely swept asunder. One brother and one sister survive her. When sister Hudson was yet quite a girl she accepted Christ and never after faltered in her devotion to Him. Her husband came into the church quite late in life. He was entangled in the doctrinal difficulties of these days, and could not see his way clear. But when he saw the steadfast devotion of his young wife, and how she would saddle up a horse, and with one of the children behind her, always go, even to the Saturday meeting, so common in those days, he yielded to the persuasion of her life. What logic, and argument would not do for him, a consecrated personality did. When he saw her thorough earnestness in the way of Christ, he himself obeyed the gospel.

And sister Hudson was a woman of strong convictions about everything. She did nothing in doubt. She believed something until the very last. Her religion was not of the jelly-fish sort. She was brought up in times that tried men's souls in almost everything, especially in religion. She had a firm hold on the future. In my conversations with her during, and before her sickness, it seemed that heaven was as real to her as the present life. This is always so with people of strong faith. She was a woman of robust, common sense, a devoted home-keeper, wife and mother. One of the type of women who have made historic and glorious so many of the older homes in our country. She fills the description given by Solomon in Prov. 31:10:

10. Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies.
11. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil.
12. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life.
13. She seeketh wool, and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.
14. She is like the merchants' ships; she bringeth her food from afar.
15. She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household, and a portion to her maidens.
16. She considereth a field, and buyeth it with the fruits of her hands; she planteth a vineyard.
17. She girdeth her loins with strength, and strengtheneth her arms.
18. She perceiveth that her merchandise is good; her candle goeth not out by night.
19. She layeth her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaff.
20. She stretcheth out her hand to the poor; yes, she reacheth forth her hand to the needy.
21. She is not afraid of the snow for her household; for all her household are clothed with scarlet.
22. She maketh herself coverings of tapestry; her clothing is silk and purple.
23. Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders.
24. She maketh fine linen, and selleth it; and delivereth girdles unto the merchant.
25. Strength and honour are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come.
26. She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness.
27. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not of the bread of idleness.
28. Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.
29. Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all.
30. Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.
31. Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates.

Four children survive her—two sons and two daughters. They all can rise up and call her blessed. Almost her last words to me were words of commendation for her children. She died in perfect peace in the remarkably full and free exercise of all her faculties. With the dissolution of the body there came a triumphant spirit, which, released from its prison-house, mounted upward to the skies. Her last words and actions bespoke her kindly welfare for others' interests before her own. With intellect unclouded, and heart aglow with love to the very last, she called each member of the household to her side and bade them good-by as she went with the Saviour through the valley of the shadow into the light and splendor of the eternal morning.

It is Easy to Tell.

People who fail to look after their health are like the carpenter who neglects to sharpen his tools. People are not apt to get anxious about their health soon enough. If you are "not quite well" or "half sick" have you ever thought that your kidneys may be the cause of your sickness? It is easy to tell by setting aside your urine for twenty-four hours, a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate, scanty supply, pain or dull ache in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is satisfaction in knowing that the great remedy Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, fulfills every wish in relieving weak or diseased kidneys and all forms of bladder and urinary troubles. Not only does Swamp Root give new life and activity to the kidneys—the cause of trouble, but by treating the kidneys it acts as a tonic for the entire constitution. If you need a medicine take Swamp Root—it cures. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar, or by mail-ordering the CENTRAL RECORD and sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may have a sample bottle of this great discovery sent to you free by mail. (4)

There appears to be a misunderstanding among the Kentucky lawyers as to when the recently elected Clerk of the Court of Appeals goes into office. FARM AND STOCK NOTES.

Cattle of every age are too often thrown together; the largest and strongest take their choice of the food and leave the refuse to the weaker animals. Separate them and give the best to those which usually get the poorest. There is more waste, too, in feeding in large herds.

A variety of food for the fowls must be furnished for the fall and winter. Among other things, feed sorgum seed on the stalk; it gives exercise and promotes health.

Heat is a condition of nature favorable to the production of eggs and meat, and to neglect providing comfortable quarters is to invite defeat.

Commissioner of Agriculture Moore says that the Kentucky agricultural station at Lexington will next year make a test of raising sugar beets. He says the only question as to the production is the amount of sugar the beet grown in Kentucky will yield. Should the yield be what is expected, a beet sugar factory will be established at Frankfort, and the industry promises to be one of the great industries of Kentucky farmers.

A farmer went into a store over at Berkeley the other day to sell a lot of fine potatoes, says the Lexington News. He was offered 75c a bushel. A traveling man, who was standing by, remarked to the farmer: "If you had those potatoes in New York you could get $1.50 per bushel for them." "Ya-as," answered the farmer, "and if I had a pair of water in hades I reckon I could get 10c a glass for it, too." And the drummer collapsed.

W. R. Cook sold to Fox twenty-eight head export cattle at $4.23. The Kentucky Stock Farm has changed its name to the American Stock Farm. The Christmas edition was a beauty.

Blood Poison.

Contagious Blood Poison has been appropriately called the curse of mankind. It is the one disease that physicians cannot cure; their mercurial and potash remedies only bottle up the poison in the system, to surely break forth in a more virulent form, resulting in a total wreck of the system.

Mr. Frank B. Martin, a prominent jeweler at 926 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C., says: "I was for a long time under treatment of two of the best physicians of this city, for a severe case of blood poison, but my condition grew worse all the while, notwithstanding the fact that they charged me three hundred dollars. My mouth was filled with eating sores; my tongue was almost eaten away, so that for three months I was unable to taste any solid food. My hair was coming out rapidly, and I was in a horrible fix. I had tried various treatments, and was nearly discouraged, when a friend recommended S.S.S. After I had taken four bottles, I began to get better, and when I had finished eighteen bottles, I was cured and sound and well, my skin was without a blemish, and I have had no return of the disease. S.S.S. saved me from a life of misery. S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) will cure any case of blood poison. The indications now are that good stallions will do a big business in Kentucky next spring, says the American Stock Farm. Horses are now so scarce hereabouts that the increase of breeding will be absolutely necessary. The man who will be able to produce a dozen or so of good colts a couple or three years hence will have a fortune. Our breeders are coming to a realization of this fact and will breed more in years.

The cattle were shipped in a train of thirteen cars for Newport News, whence they will ship for the English market. The cattle averaged 1,427 pounds to the head. Weil is one of the purchasing agents for Nelson Morris, the big Chicago exporter. Over $100,000 worth of export beefs have been sold by Boyle county feeders this fall, and more are to go yet. Farris & Whitley have handled about 1,000 head.

HARPER NEEDS MONEY.

Funds Needed for Another Dormitory at Chicago University.

President Harper, of the University of Chicago, is looking for some one with about $100,000, who will build another dormitory for the use of the Midway "coeds." The present women's halls—Kelly, Beecher and Foster—have for some time been inadequate to supply the demand for rooms which the constantly-increasing number of women students has created, so that many of the new "coeds" have been obliged to secure rooms in private houses. This condition of affairs is not approved by the authorities, nor is it acceptable to the parents of some of the young women.

At a meeting of the trustees the other day plans drawn up by Henry Ives Cobb were considered, and it was decided that another dormitory should be built between Beecher and Kelly halls, facing Lexington avenue, and costing approximately $75,000. It was decided that the authorities should go on a still hunt for some one with capital and sufficient generosity to build the "coeds" another hall.

A NEW GERMAN LIGHT.

Discovery That Will Revolutionize Methods of Illumination.

Consulting Engineer, at Crefeld, Germany, reports to the state department of a discovery made there which it is said revolutionizes the methods of illumination. It is an incandescent gas. A single jet of ordinary size can emit a light of much more than 1,000 candle power and fine print can be read at a distance of 100 feet. The inventor says the cost for a light of 1,500 candle power is only 1 1/2 cents per hour, while that for an ordinary electric light of 400 candle power is 11 cents per hour.

BACON AND LARD HOGS.

A Statement of the Demand for Them Here and Abroad.

Director Curtis, of the Iowa experimental station, has submitted to Secretary of Agriculture Wilson a comparative report on English and American lard hogs, embracing the results of tests to determine the best for food and the prices received for each breed. The report states that the market discrimination between the breeds is very slight, only ten cents per 100 pounds in favor of the Tamworths and Blackshires, the English breeds. They sold for $3.50 per 100, while all the others brought $2.70. All the breeds of hogs tested made pork at substantially the same price for raising, feeding, etc., about two cents per pound. Secretary Wilson says while the demand abroad may be greater for the bacon hogs than for the other the demand for lard hogs is at great here as ever.

THE Southern Mutual Investment Co., OF LEXINGTON, KY. OUR PLAN.

Our plan is a new application of an old principle, and is based upon the actual experience of successful life insurance companies, covering a period of over 200 years. The same principles govern both, only—

WE pay while you LIVE.

THEY pay when you DIE.

WE offer the INVESTMENT features.

THEY protect in case of DEATH.

With them, death is the moving factor, causing the payment of the policy; with us, a definite and fixed mathematical rule, in lieu of death, matures the policy.

INSURANCE IS A LAW OF AVERAGE.

They figure on so many men out of a thousand dying—we figure on so many policies, They kill the man—we kill the policy.

There is no reason why a man should die to reap the benefit of his investment.

We return an average of $2.30 for every dollar paid us, and yet we assume an obligation less than one-third as great as has been assumed and paid for years by the leading life insurance companies of America.

OUR MISSION.

Only about twenty (20) per cent. of the people are insurable. Only the sound and healthy, who least need it's advantages, can obtain life insurance. Why should there not be a means provided whereby the other eighty (80) per cent. of the population can carry an investment the same as the favored few who can get life insurance? Our mission is to open the door to the entire population to enjoy the same or greater benefits for an equal or less expenditure, considering the advantage to be derived, and that those advantages may be enjoyed during life by the one making the investment.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

That our plan is popular and based upon sound business principles, is evidenced by our large and increasing membership, as shown by our remarkable Exhibit of Growth. See literature.

We court the closest scrutiny and most thorough investigation. No statement made that cannot be verified by actual results.

Others Make Money. Why Not You?

The endorsement given this Company by the investment of bankers, lawyers, merchants, ministers, doctors, railroad men, mechanics—in fact, men of business sagacity in every vocation of life—is an evidence of the soundness of our system.

ACTUAL RESULTS, AND OPINIONS OF SOME OF OUR CERTIFICATE HOLDERS.

REV. J. V. RILEY, of Mortonsville, Ky., says: "I have had an investment in the Southern Mutual Investment Co., of Lexington, Ky., for more than three years. I have had 23 coupons to mature by redemption, which cost me less than $500.00, and returned to me $1,416.00."

To whom it may concern.

This is to certify, that my husband, W. F. White, about three years ago, invested in the Southern Mutual Investment Co. Since that time there have been 26 coupons to mature, on which the Company has paid his estate $1,621.96. These coupons cost his estate less than $700.00 to mature them. I am pleased with the investment he made, and am still carrying 64 coupons in the Company, MARY E. WHITE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; it is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the MOST COMPLETE AND MOST PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED of the GREAT MONTHLIES.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication. Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in women's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE FOR 1898

A GREAT PROGRAMME.

The Story of the Revolution by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, to run throughout the year. (For the first time all the modern art forces and resources will be brought to bear upon the Revolution. Howard Pyle and a corps of artists are making over 100 paintings and drawings expressly for this great work.)

Captain A. T. Mahan's "The American Navy in the Revolution," to be illustrated by Carlton T. Chapman, the marine artist; Harry Fenn, and others.

Thomas Nelson Page's First Long Novel, "Red Rock—A Chronicle of Reconstruction." Mr. Page has devoted four years to the story, and he considers it his best work. (Illustrated by B. West Cline.)

Rudyard Kipling, Richard Harding Davis, Joel Chandler Harris, George W. Cable, and others, are under engagement to contribute stories during 1898.

Robert Grant's "Search-Light Letters"—reprint to various letters that came in consequence of his "Reflections of a Married Man" and "The Opinions of a Philosopher."

"The Workers" in a new field—Walter A. Wyckoff, the college man who became a laborer, will tell about his experience with sweat-shop laborers and anarchists in Chicago. (Illustrated from life by W. R. Leigh.)

The Theater, The Mine, etc., will be treated in "The Conduct of Great Business" series (as were "The Wheat Farm," "The Newspaper," etc., in '97), with numerous illustrations.

Life at Girls' Colleges—like the articles on "Undergraduate Life at Harvard, Princeton and Yale," and as richly illustrated.

Political Reminiscences by Senator Hoar, who has been in public life for forty-five years.

C. D. Gibson will contribute two serial sets of drawings during '98, "A New York Day," and "The Seven Ages of American Woman."

The full prospectus for '98 in small book form (24 pages), printed in two colors, with numerous illustrations (cover and decorations by Ma-field Parrish), will be sent upon application, postage paid.

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* "Meantime, we prefer to take our chance with the conservative democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an ignis fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the free silver fusion in 1896, and which, with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * The Courier-Journal is a democrat, not a republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the republican party in power."

The twice-a-week Courier-Journal is a democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellaneous, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.
